

BOSCH FAMILY IN PERU

JULY 2019

While Lima is pretty chilly at the moment; for Jordi it's sweating in the deep jungle. After a 3-day trip, he arrived at a small, poor village, called 'Naranjal'. A family we know have a church there and asked many times for help. So Jordi went with 2 other men, packed with bibles, medicines, materials and shoes. During the weekend they give teaching to couples, Sunday school teachers, kid's programs and teaching about worship. At this moment they are on their way back home. Just a 24 hour trip over water and 24 hours over land will reunite them with their waiting families. We pray for a safe journey!

SCHOES....

In the last couple of weeks we received quite some visitors. To get to know the work or to volunteer. So last week all our Brazos Abiertos kids received 'adjustable, growing shoes'. We give thanks to the special family from the States who came and donated them. To receive visits encourages us a lot and at the same time we always see our visits leave enriched.

HARD, HARD WORK

We worked very hard with the women towards the presentation of our new products. Last week we received a visit from Fairtrade Holland and others. All the effort paid their price, because we received some very big orders, which will keep the women busy and gaining a good income. One of those ladies is 'Aveli'. I hadn't seen her for a couple of weeks on our workshops, so I decided to pay her a visit. She was at home, feeling depressed. Her brother had been killed on a brutal way and she had a hard time coping with that. Her family was also suffering over her stress. Now she's doing a lot better and presented with pride her newly knitted chicken. Next year for sale in the Fair Trade shops in Holland.

BOSCH FAMILY

As a family we are doing good. Timo had his first cultural dance performance on his school. Not his hobby, but he did great! This month it's all about the Independence Day of Peru, which makes the whole country painted red and white. As a family we look forward to the visit of the grandparents (Ria's parents), who hope to arrive this week for a week's visit.

PARTY HAT

And our Joah has put on his well earned party hat, during the hike with his class mates. This year he finished both 5th as 6th grade, so he is ready for his next phase. He will still stay in the same school building. With this came the goodbye of one of his class mates, Caleb from Korea. One of the most difficult things to which you never get used to: saying goodbye to close friends.....

HANNA

*After this winter holiday, Hanna hopes to enter 3rd grade. She enjoys school a lot and has also a 'principal honor roll' written on her name (straight A report). During the holidays, she helps our teacher Yenny (on the picture) in the 4 yr old class. Yes, we have to keep them busy, while our work still continues. Dear friends, we thank you for your attention and your support! God's blessing and greetings from Jordi and Ria, Timo, Joah and Hanna Bosch
